It wasn t my fault
Besides, no one else was there, right? Nobody's going to find out...
What are you doing in there without the lights on?

I have a headache so I decided to rest for a while...

That's a good idea, keeping resting

You're an 8th year now, aren't you? It's already been 5 years There's not much time left so work hard
Make sure you remember to do what I told you to before you go to bed

I was talking with some other adults and I found out that your school is actually quite good
I guess your mother changed your school without telling you anything

Are you okay with that?

Yes, I'm fine.
Have a good night.
